

Temperature Sensors

Sycous provide a range of temperature sensor pairs which determine the supply and return temperature in closed water circuits in heating and cooling systems. Depending on the measuring point requirements they can be installed in a pocket or directly in the pipe using a ball valve.

Temperature sensor pairs with platinum precision resistance for combination with all standard calculators in measuring points for the consumption of heat and cooling energy

All the versions have an MID type testing certificate in accordance with guideline 2014/32/EU and are supplied with a corresponding conformity assessment. Some selected versions also have a domestic type test certificate for cold metering in Germany and a conformity assessment in accordance with the PTD technical guideline K 7.2 PTB. Thus these versions can be used universally for heat and cold metering and therefore offer a substantial logistical advantage. A new kind of temperature sensor type 'Universal 6 x 60 -230' that can be used for all standard sleeves for temperature sensors with an installation length of 50 to 210 mm and an internal diameter of 6 mm.
